

Unsearchable (G419) ἀνεξεραύνητος (anexeraunētos)

-from exeraunaō (G1830) and eraunaō (G2045)
to search out diligently, to inquire

Synonyms: beyond tracing out, inscrutable, unfathomable, mysterious

1Cor 2:11 &10 - For who knows a person's thoughts except their own spirit within them?

In the same way no one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God...
...The Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God.

Isa 40:13 - Who can fathom the mind of the LORD, or instruct the LORD as his counselor?

Rom 8:27 - And he who searches our hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for God's people in accordance with the will of God.

Prov 25:2 - It is the glory of God to conceal a matter; it is the glory of kings to search it out. (H2713)

1 Pet 1:10-11 - Concerning this salvation, the prophets, who spoke of the grace that was to come to you, searched intently and with the greatest care, trying to find out the time and circumstances to which the Spirit of Christ in them was pointing

Wisdom (G4678) σοφία (sophia)

-used of the knowledge of very diverse matters;

Synonyms: understanding, insight, prudence, sagacity,

Luke 7:35 - But wisdom is proved right by all her children.

1Cor 1:21 - For since in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom did not know him, God was pleased through the foolishness of what was preached to save those who believe.

Prov 3:19 - By wisdom the LORD laid the earth's foundations, by understanding he set the heavens in place

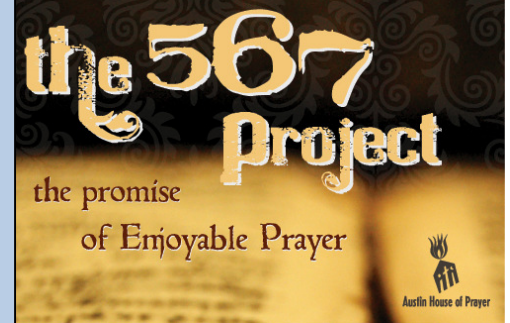

Psalm 136:5 - to him who alone does great wonders, His love endures forever! who by his understanding made the heavens, His love endures forever!

1 Cor 2:6-8 - We do, however, speak a message of wisdom among the mature, but not the wisdom of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are coming to nothing. 7 No, we declare God's wisdom, a mystery that has been hidden and that God destined for our glory before time began. 8 None of the rulers of this age understood it, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

From the Matthew Henry Commentary

The secrecy of the divine counsels: O the depth! in these proceedings towards the Jews and Gentiles; or, in general, the whole mystery of the gospel, which we cannot fully comprehend.—The riches of the wisdom and knowledge of God, the abundant instances of his wisdom and knowledge in contriving and carrying on the work of our redemption by Christ, a depth which the angels pry into, 1 Pt. 1:12. Much more may it puzzle any human understanding to give an account of the methods, and reasons, and designs, and compass of it. Paul was as well acquainted with the mysteries of the kingdom of God as ever any mere man was; and yet he confesses himself at a loss in the contemplation, and, despairing to find the bottom, he humbly sits down at the brink, and adores the depth.

There is so vast a distance and disproportion between God and man, between the Creator and the creature, as for ever excludes the thought of such an intimacy and familiarity. The apostle makes the same challenge (1 Co. 2:16): For who hath known the mind of the Lord? And yet there he adds, But we have the mind of Christ, which intimates that through Christ true believers, who have his Spirit, know so much of the mind of God as is necessary to their happiness. He that knew the mind of the Lord has declared him, Jn. 1:18. And so, though we know not the mind of the Lord, yet, if we have the mind of Christ, we have enough. The secret of the Lord is with those that fear him, Ps. 25:14.
